HOROSCOPES

Aquarius (Jan 20 - Feb 18)

As an Aquarius, you always like to stay up to date with current events! Because of this, you're always trying to sea-k out new opportunities in your life. But try not to let things overwhelm and wash over you.

Energy: 4/5

Luck: 3/5

Success: 4/5

Relationships: 3/5

Pisces (Feb 19 - Mar 20)

Has something felt fishy in your life recently? Things might seem a little iffy, so it might be good to scale things back. Try not to feel too gill-ty with your mood at other people today. Make sure to try and let the people in your life minnow how much you care about them.

Energy: 2/5

Luck: 3/5

Success: 3/5

Relationships: 1/5

Aries (Mar 21 - Apr 20)

Be prepared to have to really ram-p up your productivity today. Things will get very busy for you, so you need to charge at it head on. But make sure people don't butt in to your work, or you might suffer some ram-ifications.

Energy: 5/5

Luck: 2/5

Success: 4/5

Relationships: 2/5

Taurus (Apr 21 - May 21)

Your relationships with friends and loved ones might be a little on edge lately. Make sure you avoid starting beef with them. Although, you might feel a little extra kinship with Sagittarius today! Spend some extra time with them, and you might just hit the bullseye.

Energy: 3/5

Luck: 2/5

Success: 4/5

Relationships: 2/5

Gemini (May 22 - Jun 21)

It takes two to tango, and you should spend some time with those you care about today. Maybe try working on some larger projects, because two heads are better than one! Don't overwork yourself however, or you may end up seeing double.

Energy: 4/10

Luck: 6/10

Success: 6/10

Relationships: 10/10

Cancer (Jun 22 - Jul 22)

You might be feeling a little crabby lately, but you just can't really put your finger on why. Don't sidestep around these issues weighing you down, or people might think of you as being shellfish.

Energy: 1/5

Luck: 3/5

Success: 3/5

Relationships: 4/5

Leo (Jul 23 - Aug 23)

Just like your star sign's namesake, you are feeling a lot of pride lately! But don't get complacent. If you spend too long lion around, you run the risk of missing out on some big opportunities in your life.

Energy: 4/5

Luck: 3/5

Success: 2/5

Relationships: 3/5

Virgo (Aug 24 - Sep 22)

It might be time for you to Virgo on a long journey. Things have become somewhat stagnant in your life, so bringing along a Gemini who is willing to Virgo with you will be a great choice, and is sure to give you memories that will never be Virgotten.

Energy: 2/5

Luck: 3/5

Success: 2/5

Relationships: 4/5

Libra (Sep 23 - Oct 23)

Naturally, you prefer to keep the perfect balance in life, and right now, things seem to be running smoothly. However, this can also lead to feeling like things are dull. Stepping back and looking at things at a larger scale might offer a new perspective.

Energy: 2/5

Luck: 2.5/5

Success: 2.5/5

Relationships: 2.5/5

Scorpio (Oct 24 - Nov 22)

You and your partner might be feeling a little distant lately, and that feeling of isolation might sting. But don't lose hope! Spending some more time with those of the Cancer star sign will really help you in a pinch. Make extra sure to avoid the toxicity of people around you.

Energy: 4/5

Luck: 3/5

Success: 2/5

Relationships: 1/5

Sagittarius (Nov 23 - Dec 21)

Focusing on helping others is always a nice thing to do, but letting them become arrowgant has its drawbacks. Don't bow down to them, and step up. However, there is a connection with bowth Sagittarius and Taurus today, so spending time with them will definitely hit the mark.

Energy: 2/5

Luck: 4/5

Success: 4/5

Relationships: 2/5

Capricorn (Dec 22 - Jan 20)

You've been stalling on your daily routine lately, so try not to kid around too much. But there is an opportunity to change up your routine and try something new. There's a bit of flexibility to what you can do today, so do whatever floats your goat.

Energy: 3/5

Luck: 2/5

Success: 4/5

Relationships: 3/5

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Hello, friends. Summer has arrived, and we're back with our 6th amazing Vinesauce is HOPE charity event. Before you get too far, I'd love it if you took a minute or two to check out the long list of volunteers on this page. This event couldn't happen without the collaborative efforts of a truly amazing team, one that grew significantly in size this year. They started back in January and have put in countless hours to give us all the opportunity to continue our mission of Helping Others, Playing Everything for the Pediatric Cancer Research Foundation. If you see them around, please thank them for their hard work; they deserve it so much.

This year's magazine depicts an idyllic story of our resident streamers enjoying simple lives in the farming town of Wishwell. You've likely enjoyed stories like this one before: They usually begin with an abundance of chaos, and they ultimately transform into positive, fulfilling endings through the power of both Community and Growth. These two ideas are at the heart of our theme for this year, and are reflected in the magazine's design of a trusty farmer's almanac. We hope you enjoy this year's content, as well as our info on all of your favorite streamers.

The soul of Vinesauce is HOPE resides in its community. It is powered through your generosity, emboldened by your enthusiasm, and uplifted by your determination. I never want you to forget that your support is absolutely vital to our cause, whether through your donations, your time, or even just your participation. Together, our efforts continue to bring hope to children and their families at a time when they desperately need a second chance, or a second opinion, or a second's respite from the chaos. To put it simply: HOPE grows here, and it gives children the opportunity for their own positive, fulfilling endings. Since 2014, our efforts have blossomed into a fantastic annual event that has raised over half a million dollars for pediatric cancer research, and believe me when I say that we're only getting started. There are big plans in motion right now that I'd love to share with you when the time is right. I'm so very proud of all of you. Here's to 3 days of amazing variety streams, as we continue to plant the seeds of HOPE together.

Andi's Story

This story was shared by Andi's family, and it is a great reminder that the research into understanding and eradicating pediatric cancer is always evolving. We can only make decisions with the knowledge we have at hand, and the fight to give our children the best care possible is at the heart of PCRF's mission.

This is not a story of sadness, loss, or misfortune. This is a story of hope, of love, and the sweetest little girl you will ever meet. I hope that, through Andi's story, we all can find solace that things are progressing in the treatment and diagnosis of pediatric cancer.

On Tuesday, March 29th at the Children's Hospital of Orange County (CHOC), Andi had an ultrasound performed on her abdomen. Eventually, this ultrasound and multiple subsequent tests would confirm that she had Stage 3 Neuroblastoma, and that the mass was the size of an adult fist and surrounded two major blood vessels.

Nothing prepares you for that moment. Nothing prepares you for those words: "Your daughter has cancer." It's something you see in movies, but not something you think you would hear about your own kid.

The Children's Oncology Group sets the procedures in handling cancer in children, and these procedures are based on the classification and other factors. In Andi's case, because the tumor was intermediate-risk, she would receive chemotherapy for about 6 months, and then surgery if it was determined that was possible.

It was time to fight. Friends, family, and colleagues put us in touch with doctors from around the country, and did whatever they could to ensure we got the best care for Andi. We wanted more opinions.

Dr. Shimano at Children's Hospital Los Angeles (CHLA) agreed with CHOC, except she classified the tumor as favorable, whereas CHOC said it was unfavorable. Research has shown that a favorable prognosis means the tumor will not respond to chemo and, in many cases, not do anything at all. So CHLA said no chemo and observe, while CHOC said chemo and surgery. When I asked that the two pathologists from both hospitals discuss the different prognoses, they both held their positions.

This is where the Pediatric Cancer Research Foundation came in and supported us. Through them, I was introduced to Dr. Mitchell Cairo, a prominent pediatric oncologist. He had very good insight and gave us the courage to continue to seek out what was the right decision.

All of the test results were sent to Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center in NYC to get a third opinion, to confirm one of the initial two prognoses, and to determine if Dr. Michael LaQuaglia felt he could comfortably remove the tumor. We flew out with Andi on May 28th and scheduled the surgery for June 6th, in case they determined that was our best option. In short, Dr. LaQuaglia said that if Dr. Shimano determined the tumor was favorable and that we should just observe, then that is what he would do. According to Dr. LaQuaglia, Dr. Shimano was the pathologist who came up with the method of determining whether a tumor was favorable or unfavorable. In his exact words..."He wrote the bible for this".

We don't know if it's because we were searching for a sign to point us in one direction, but this is what we needed. We decided at that moment to go with CHLA's prognosis and to observe the tumor.

Three years later, Andi's tumor has shrunk on its own by almost 60%. Multiple scans have all come back clean, and we are now doing scans only once a year. Her tumor is still malignant, but should eventually turn into ganglioneuroma, which is a benign tumor. She also participates in a study at CHLA, and because her tumor has reacted so well to no treatment, she is a focal point of the study.

We were one day away from starting chemo when we got the news from CHLA on their prognosis. We were a week out from surgery before we reversed course. We are so very fortunate for all the support from PCRF, our friends and family, and anyone else that helped us in that trying time.

I hope that by reading this story, you can see how important it is for families to have access to resources to get multiple opinions and research. It is important that charities like PCRF are able to help fund those efforts and assist wherever needed. Had we not gotten multiple opinions, Andi would have received chemo, to which her tumor most likely would not have responded. Cancer research has come a long way, but there is still a lot more that needs to be done.

HOW MUCH has HOPE GROWN in 5 YEARS?

HELPING KIDS, TOGETHER

Since 2014, our annual charity event has helped to raise money for the Pediatric Cancer Research Foundation, a non-profit organization that works to improve the care, quality of life, and survival rates of children with malignant diseases. Cancer continues to rob our children of precious time, replacing their joyful experiences of childhood with extended hospital visits and chemotherapy treatments. With a worldwide average of a child being diagnosed with cancer every 3 minutes, chances are that you know someone, directly or otherwise, that has been affected by the horrors of this disease.

Our milestones and our successes each year are solely determined by the amazing community members that come together to donate their time, support, and love to PCRF's cause. Your contributions, regardless of size, make a huge difference in the lives of these young patients and their families. Thank you so much for being a part of Vinesauce is HOPE, and for helping to give that HOPE back to those that need it the most.

TALK of the TOWN

Salutations readers!

If you've been looking forward to our charity event for a while, you may remember when we asked you about communities: what they mean to us, how they help us grow, and how we can make them stronger. We've selected some of our favorite submissions and posted them on our town bulletin board! Please understand that due to the amount of responses, we're unable to print every single one of your lovely thoughts. However, we've considered all of them and would like to thank you for writing to us!

- The Charity Team ♥

Community, to me, is a ragtag gathering of all genders, races and backgrounds. A family founded in the idea of inclusiveness. A support network, built from the ground up to provide love and support to each and every person willing to open their heart and embrace a home away from home. Community is the security of knowing that no matter how hard things get, you have someone you can fall back onto, with confidence that they'll help you stand up again, with the knowledge that you'd do the same for them.

- Kaz

A community is like a home away from home, and it's taken me years to find my place within this one. There are little spaces we make for ourselves, amongst like-minded individuals that keep us going when things are tough. A community is like a home, and a home can be a community that welcomes you no matter where you're from.

- Fanshi

For me, a community is a place where people of all backgrounds can come together, have fun, and do some good along the way. The Vinesauce community has come through for so many and helped out numerous people. I couldn't be more proud to be a part of this community and its ability to help out those in need. Thank you Vinesauce.

- thepsynergist

Community is the dedication of like-minded individuals coming together in support of or to create something bigger than the sum of their parts.

- Tracey G.

Community is people around you who accept you, regardless of how strange and goofy you are. The people who look past your flaws, or help you overcome them, and cherish what you bring into their lives. They see those who have fallen at their lowest and will do whatever it takes to help them back onto their feet. A community is a family, one with a warm home, an open door, and there to welcome you as if you were just in time for dinner.

- TerraTerraCotta

To me, community means love and acceptance. As a transgender person, the Vinesauce community has been one of the most accepting and affirming communities online and I'm happy to have been a part of it for almost five years now. In an online environment usually full of yelling and anger, Vinesauce has been a refuge full of nothing but love, laughs, and amazing people I will never forget.

- Drew

Supportive communities are the cornerstone of stable mental health, positive reinforcement, and human development. By forming a group filled with people who genuinely want the best for each other, everyone will benefit and grow. The Vinesauce community has this important characteristic for me, which is why I love being part of it.

- BobberWCC

I just started my own streaming journey about a year ago, and I've had the blessing of getting to experience first hand what a streaming community is like as the streamer. It's people standing by you. Supporting you. Helping you. Being patient with you. And, most importantly, the most healthy thing that makes a community work, is being honest with you. If they see something isn't right, they'll tell you, and I appreciate that the most.

- TheBlueJay1994

Community, to me, means support. It means love, it means kindness, it means a home — be it your only home, or a home away from home. I've found my exact definition of community in this place called Vinesauce — all of the streamers have built a wonderful thing here, and this charity is proof of that.

- Temne / Alex D.

An online community can mean a lot of things. Sharing interests, making friends and establishing connections that could transcend oceans. Having so many people gathered together for a common goal can lead to amazing accomplishments, like helping those in need. While it can be too easy to focus on negative aspects of online communities, seeing everyone come together year after year for the Vinesauce Is Hope charity stream is inspiring, and it reminds me that there IS hope.

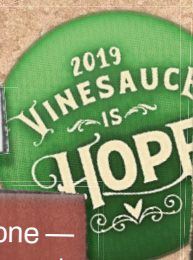

- Vinny

To me, community is synonymous with family. A community is made when a group of individuals bond together over one common goal, interest, or passion, and grows and thrives in time. Through the good days and the bad, communities always stick together and care for one another. Doesn't matter if it's big or small; as long as there's passion, the community will always survive and thrive.

- SantanaelChan

- chertic_

Community is about being there for everyone — building each other up, helping each other out, even just lending an ear. It doesn't have to be thousands of people, and it doesn't have to be in real life. It's a place to belong to, somewhere you can be yourself.

- leif-life

Community is love, support, togetherness and hope! When we all come together with a common interest to share stories, to make memories and to enjoy company of those around us. Communities make us human and bring us closer to who we are as individuals and as one big unity. A community is all of us!

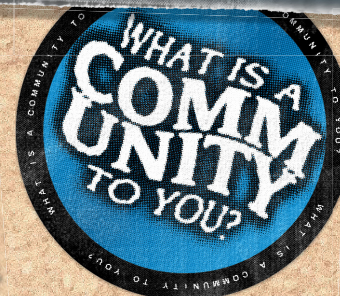

- Soccerbest12

A community is committed to providing support for others in any capacity. It provides strong relationships between family, friends, and colleagues. Since joining the Vinesauce community a little over a year ago, I've seen lots of wonderful people who show support online and brings them closer together everyday. It has created more motivation for me in what I do creatively than any other community has and I'm deeply moved by the opportunity I was given.

WRESTLEFEST

What reminds you of home?

Whenever I'm streaming GeoGuessr and I see endless pine forests, little red houses and green fields, you know my heart beats proud of my little stinky fish country.

What's your favorite childhood memory?

Accidentally performing fatalities and beating bosses on my first try in front of my friends made me the video game king back in the day (Now I am the grand master).

What does the word "Community" mean to you?

The fact that after almost 10 years, we're still streaming together and topping each charity event with new goals and dreams. Also our audience and viewers that watch, participate, make art, and contribute in creative ways inspire me to do my best.

About Me

Vidyabum is rarely seen on the island during the day but after the sun goes down, he lands his balloon to share the rare items he's acquired through his travels from the "mainland" (aka trash-can). It's a gamble whether you'll get a true gem or not but chats with Vidyabum are worth the price alone. Vidyabum makes an appearance during the Hot Air Balloon Festival where he takes townsfolk on balloon rides and participates in the Inventor's Contest in the evening.

What is your favorite season?

Fall. The falling leaves absorb a lot of sound and makes things quieter, the days are getting shorter, and the crisp air is perfect to be outside while it's not too hot.

If you had one wish, what would you wish for?

To go back to when I was younger, but retain all the knowledge I have now.

NORIX'S MOM'S SPAGHETTI PIE

INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup grated parmesan cheese
- 16 oz spaghetti, cooked al dente
- 1 cup ricotta cheese
- 4 eggs, lightly beaten
- 1/2 tsp chopped basil
- 2 medium tomatoes, coarsely chopped
- 10 oz pack frozen peas
- 1 cup broccoli, cooked & chopped
- 1 cup cauliflower, chopped
- 2 cups shredded mozzarella or cheddar cheese

DIRECTIONS

- 1. Preheat oven to 375° F (190° C).
- 2. Coat a 9" springform pan with cooking spray.
- 3. In a large bowl, combine pasta with parmesan, ricotta, eggs, and basil. Mix well.
- 4. Place half of pasta mixture into pan and press down.
- 5. Spread half of tomatoes, peas, broccoli, cauliflower, and cheese over pasta.
- 6. Repeat steps 4 and 5 with remaining pasta mixture and vegetables and cheese.
- 7. Bake 55 minutes. Let sit 10 minutes before slicing.

SALSA BEAN PATTIES

INGREDIENTS

- 1 19 oz. can of red kidney beans, rinsed and drained
- 1 cup crushed corn tortilla chips (or lime tortilla chips)
- 1/2 cup medium salsa
- 1 large egg, fork-beaten
- various spices
- hamburger buns

DIRECTIONS

- 1. Mash beans with a fork in a medium bowl.
- 2. Add remaining ingredients. Season to preference (we recommend chili powder, but it's up to you). Stir well.
- 3. Shape into patties. Heat large greased frying pan on medium. Add patties when hot. Cook for about 5 minutes per side until browned and heated through.
- 4. When assembling burger, add your favorite toppings!

DORITOS® COVERED CHICKEN

INGREDIENTS

- 1 bag of Cool Ranch Doritos®, crushed
- 2 eggs, beaten
- chicken breasts
- fresh mozzarella
- fontina cheese
- flour
- cooked pancetta (or bacon)
- salt & pepper
- vegetable oil
- toothpicks

DIRECTIONS

- 1. Cut pocket through length of chicken breast. Stuff with cheese, bacon, and salt and pepper.
- 2. Piece opening with toothpicks to close and place chicken in fridge for an hour to set..
- 3. Use bowls just large enough to fit the pieces of chicken. To bowl #1 add flour; to bowl #2 eggs; to bowl #3 crushed Doritos®. Add a little salt and pepper to each bowl and stir to combine.
- 4. Dredge chicken 1 piece at a time in flour, shaking off excess, then dip in egg, and then in Doritos®.
- 5. In a frying pan, heat oil until hot but not smoking. Cook chicken until evenly browned on both sides and cooked through, or has an internal temperature of around 180° F.

COCONUT MILK CEVICHE

INGREDIENTS

- 1 large lemon, halved
- 1 whole head of garlic, top of head removed
- 12-20 peppercorns
- 1/4 cup Kosher or sea salt
- 3 bay leaves
- 1/2 cup fresh lime juice
- 1 medium red onion, sliced thin
- 2 cups coconut milk
- 2 lbs. cleaned raw shrimp
- half a bunch of cilantro or flat-leaf parsley
- olive oil

DIRECTIONS

- 1. Fill a large pot with water and add lemon, garlic, peppercorns, salt, bay leaves and salt. Bring to a boil for 5 minutes.
- 2. Turn off the heat and stir in shrimp. Leave shrimp in water until cooked through, stirring occasionally. This will take from one to several minutes depending on the size of your shrimp.
- 3. Remove shrimp from water and drain well, leaving everything else in the pot. Put shrimp on a paper towel lined plate or sheet pan in a single layer and refrigerate until chilled through.
- 4. While shrimp are chilling, combine coconut milk, cilantro, lime juice and red onion; stir until well combined.
- 5. Slice shrimp in half lengthwise and add to coconut milk mixture. Refrigerate for 30 minutes.
- 6. Put into individual service dishes and drizzle with olive oil. If you like it hot, add sliced jalapeño or serrano chilies to coconut milk.

A detailed illustration of a plate of spaghetti. The spaghetti is served in a white bowl with a blue rim. It is topped with a thick, red meat sauce. A large, golden-brown fried cutlet is placed on top of the sauce. Melted yellow cheese is drizzled over the cutlet, and a single green basil leaf is garnish on top. Another basil leaf is visible on the side of the spaghetti.

DIRECTIONS

1. Season chicken on both sides with salt and pepper.
  2. Use bowls just large enough to fit each piece of chicken. To bowl #1 add flour; to bowl #2 eggs; to bowl #3 breadcrumbs. Add a little salt and pepper to each bowl and stir to combine. Dredge chicken 1 piece at a time in flour, shaking off excess, then dip in egg, and then in breadcrumbs.
  3. In a fry pan, heat oil until hot but not smoking. Cook chicken in pan until evenly browned on both sides. Do this in batches; don't crowd the pan.
  4. Cover the bottom of a 9x13 pan with a thin layer of spaghetti sauce. This will help keep the chicken from sticking. Add chicken on top of sauce in a single layer. Top each piece of chicken with more of the spaghetti sauce and then a layer of cheese. Bake in a preheated 350° oven until chicken is cooked through (180° internal temperature).
- Can be served over cooked pasta or you can add the pasta to the baking dish under the chicken.

A slice of cheesecake with a berry garnish and a drizzle of pink sauce on a white plate.

DIRECTIONS

1. Preheat oven to 350°.
2. Stir together crumbs, sugar and butter. Pat mixture firmly on bottom of a 9 inch springform pan. Bake for 10 minutes and then let cool.
3. Beat cream cheese at medium speed until creamy. Gradually add 1 cup sugar and the flour. Add vanilla and then eggs 1 at a time, beating after each addition. Stir in sour cream until just combined. You may see bits of sour cream not quite mixed in which is fine.
4. Pour over cool crust. Bake for about 70 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean.
5. Gently run a knife around edge of pan to loosen sides but do not remove sides of pan. Cool completely on a wire rack then remove pan. Cover and chill at least 4 hours.
6. Top with pie filling if desired.
